Do you have anything to add to Fiona Duncan's review of The Old Parsonage? If so, email your comments to hotelguru@telegraph.co.uk or post them on our website at telegraph.ukhotels. Here is what you said about last week's review of Barnsdale Lodge:

"I was so pleased to read Fiona's report on Barnsdale Lodge - long overdue praise for this comfortable and welcoming hotel. Since 2003 Macmillan Cancer Support has been holding its annual Good as New Clothes Sale there. Ed Burrows and his team continually surprise us with their amazing support, generosity and willingness to accommodate all our requests."

Trish Ruddle

"Spot On Fiona! As local residents with a wealth of knowledge on amazing places to stay and eat, this gem has been chosen above the rest for all the good reasons you mention, which help forgive the very few shortcomings (all of which are being addressed)."

Sue Ward

"We love this hotel and stay a few times each year. We couldn't ask for a warmer welcome by stupendous staff - a special mention to the charming MD, Ed Burrows. We love the simple but very local dishes and enjoy a few glasses of wine in the pretty courtyard. I urge readers to drop in: you won't be disappointed."
